Darlington Heights, Nov. 21.—A day of national Thanksgiving is a day of national spiritual health to all people. None of us can come into the presence of the Lord with thanksgiving without experiencing the saving grace of the Holy Spirit and the peace and joy that come from the presence of the Lord with thanksgiving.

Joe Bell is much better after having been ill for the past ten days. Joseph Bell, of Richmond, will spend Thanksgiving with his parents.

Frank Wood and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Potter, of Hopewell, are spending a few days in the home of the former's sisters, Mesdames M. L. Davis and W. A. Baker. They will engage in hunting while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Martin, of Louisiana, are spending this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Martin.

Miss Emily and Mae Harvey, of the Westside Baptist Church, are spending this week with Mrs. Sam Anderson, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and her friend, of the Westside Baptist Church, are spending this week with Mrs. H. R. Davis.

We are sorry to hear that Buford Daniel, and Mrs. O. H. Fowler, of the Westside Baptist Church, are spending this week with Mrs. H. R. Davis.

The Josephine Towler spent last week-end in the home of Miss Flora Williams, of Pamplin.

Dr. Chas. Putney, of Staunton, visited his brother, J. H. Putney, the past week.

Mr. Charlie Carville, of Five Forks, spent the past week-end with his sister, Mrs. W. M. Williams, of the Westside Baptist Church.

Mesdames W. B. Thomas, of Evergreen and J. T. Baker spent the week-end visiting Mrs. William Hopkins, of Alexandria, and Mrs. Clem Hamilton, of Washington.

THANKSGIVING STORY—
"THE RIGHT WAY"
By Ida Buckman

Kay opened her eyes and saw the early sun casting shadows on the walls. She watched them for a moment, realizing she was happy about something. For an instant she could not remember what her last thought was before she came to her like a dream. This was Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving! In the time that it took her to breathe the word she was out of bed. Over her slimy dress. As she combed her hair, she thought of her plans for the day. First she was going to help mother make the turkey. Then she was going to the new stadium, then to see the football game. Third, she was going to stay until Saturday. She had it all planned. At Ellen's home she would meet Bruce. He was her favorite and headed the "teen beaver" club. Kay, Thanksgiving is sure to be full of fun and excitement. She went downstairs, taking them two at a time, and grinned a cheery "good morning" to her mother.

She was late for breakfast, but she hoped she would be forgiven that on Thanksgiving. She didn't think her mother was pleased at her tardiness but there was something wrong with her. Kay asked, "Mom, what makes your face so long?"

"Kay dear, it's a few minutes ago I received a letter a few minutes ago from Glendene. Beth is not well. I suppose Dad and I had better go down there today. Do you mind to much? I mean about the dinner and everything?"

Kay felt an annoying sting for a moment, then she answered sweetly with kind eyes, for she noticed that her mother's were both pleading and pitying. "Why, of course not, Mom. I've got as many other plans, see you won't mind. You and Dad go and take Beth loads of my sympathy. You need a hurry back for I'll be gone until Saturday, you know."

Kay saw them off on their trip, then decided against cooking dinner. She would have to eat it alone. That's no fun. She turned to her plans for the rest of the day. Just begun. While she was occupied with her thoughts of fun, the telephone rang. "Hello."

"Why Nana, I've been expecting you all morning. When will you be home?"

Why should we have a day of days, just one and then no more? In which to thank our Lord on high, for all He does bestow?

Why can't we thank Him everyday? He's always with us, and He's always in our hearts. He's always in our hearts, and He's always in our hearts.

Why can't we thank Him everyday? He's always with us, and He's always in our hearts. He's always in our hearts, and He's always in our hearts.

Why can't we thank Him everyday? He's always with us, and He's always in our hearts. He's always in our hearts, and He's always in our hearts.

Why can't we thank Him everyday? He's always with us, and He's always in our hearts. He's always in our hearts, and He's always in our hearts.
